STUDENT LOAN DEBT STATISTICS:2022

Average student loan debt

Sixty-two percent of the class of 2019 graduated with student debt, according to the most recent data available from The Institute for College Access & Success, a nonprofit organization that works to improve higher education access and affordability. Among these graduates, the average student loan debt was $28,950.

MONEY MADE EASY: A FINANCIAL WELLNESS CHEAT SHEET FOR COLLEGE STUDENTS

In a perfect world, a college acceptance letter would come with an instruction manual. But of course, that's not the case. Students are left to figure things out on their own, and when one of those things is a personal finance, youthful missteps can have lasting consequences.

To create our financial wellness cheat sheet, we spoke to Beth Tallman, a personal finance expert who specializes in student finances. (She developed the personal finance curriculum for Oberlin College.) We asked what advice she'd give college students if that advice needed to fit on a single piece of paper.

SALARY PROJECTIONS FOR CLASS OF 2022 BACHELOR'S GRADS A MIXED BAG

By Kevin Gray

Projections for the Class of 2022 range from an increase of 5.4% for math and sciences and agriculture and natural resources majors to a decrease of 14.8% for humanities majors. (See Figure 1.)

This is unlike last year, when employers projected increases in all reported categories of majors at the bachelor's degree level.
